

Press Advisory
For Immediate Release
January 19, 2016

CONTACT INFORMATION:
Molly Lyons, Director, Development and Public
Relations:
513.703.9107 or development@laddinc.org

Living Arrangements for the Developmentally Disabled (LADD) is proud to announce its 2017 ReelAbilities Film Festival Co-Chairs

Kim Vincent, Jenny McCloy, and Cincinnati Reds' Hall of Famer Dave Parker will lead the 2017 festival. The ReelAbilities Film Festival is the region's largest film festival dedicated to showcasing the lives, stories and art of people with disabilities. In 2015, the festival had over 12,000 participants and hosted celebrities such as Academy Award winner Marlee Matlin. "This festival unites the community—we are all touched in some way by the stories within these films," says Dave Parker, founder of the Dave Parker Foundation, and who himself experiences Parkinson's Disease. Ms. Vincent, an occupational therapist and co-founder of May We Help, a nonprofit that provides adaptive technology to people with disabilities, echoes this sentiment. "I am involved because this festival is a true celebration of the human spirit, is what this city is about, and the films are world-class." Jenny McCloy, President of the Board at Melodic Connections, a nonprofit that connects people with disabilities to music and mother of Sam, a teenage son with Down syndrome, encourages everyone to attend, "When you see one of these incredible films, you are changed not just in your perception of disability but in your understanding of diversity, and how all of us have something to contribute.

Kim Vincent, Co-Chair

Jenny McCloy, Co-Chair

Dave Parker, Co-Chair

ABOUT LADD and ReelAbilities:

LADD (Living Arrangements for The Developmentally Disabled) has been providing services to adults with disabilities in our community for 40 years. LADD serves nearly 500 adults with developmental disabilities in Hamilton County through housing, life skill training, employment and day services.

The Cincinnati ReelAbilities Film Festival, organized by LADD, is our region's largest film festival whose unique purpose is bringing people together to explore our differences and shared humanity. The carefully selected films and events celebrate the stories, lives and art of people who experience disability, with year-round programming and education outreach. ReelAbilities was founded in 2007 by JCC Manhattan.